

SITE SELCTION. The Pumphouse site was selected in 2009 after outreach to landowners, private and commercial boaters and fishermen, state and federal agency staff, American Whitewater and Colorado River Outfitter's Association. Gore Canyon is a nationally recognized destination for expert boaters. This reach of the Colorado River benefits from releases of water stored in upstream reservoirs throughout the summer. These releases provide boating flows in dry years and well into the fall when flows in other rivers are generally too low to boat.