I fully support the proposed application for a retail marijuana store at 12365 US HIGHWAY 34.

A marijuana shop would provide much needed tax revenue to Grand County. As long as the shops abide by all of the laws concerning the sale of their products then I don't think they would be any more of a risk to area children then a liquor store is.

Furthermore, the arguments from the community should be taken into consideration to the contrary of support for the application. But in doing so, Grand County and the Administrators that have been entrusted in speaking on behalf of their constituents have the obligation to see both sides.

Considering that there are prevalent and prominent family owned liquor stores throughout Grand County that have responsibly and reasonably sold government controlled goods in Grand's fine County for many decades... It would seem unreasonable for Grand County's Administrators to slight the hand of worthy entrepreneurs in a way to appease wealthy land owners.

Some people think libations are good... and some people think they are bad... I have no opinion on marijuana as I see the consumption of the plant the way some people think libations are good... or bad.

The Fraser Valley and Grand County are together a beautiful place for all walks of lives. Marijuana is not the monster that the citizens of Grand County should be concerned about and entrepreneurship shouldn't be what they are afraid of either.

No one citizen of Grand County questions a "traditional" drug store because they rely on that storefront for their medicine.

No one citizen of Grand County questions a "traditional" liquor store because they entertain their friends and family with the libations purchased from said store...

No one citizen from Grand County will question the marijuana retailer because the people who own these stores are much like the purveyors of the aforementioned stores:

Hard working, Pillars of their community who believe in moving the county forward.

Sincerely,
